Medea

by Euripides
in a new version by Clare Venables

Directed by Clare Venables
Designed by Tim Reed
Lighting Designed by Danielle Bisson

Monstrous Regiment is the acclaimed, long established company which presents plays centred on women's experience in an accessible, sophisticated and entertaining manner. Recently they asked Clare Venables to join them as Artistic Director. Clare's work at the Crucible Theatre, Sheffield was well-known for its wit and beauty. MEDEA, the first production of this new combination, promises to be a rich and not-to-be-missed experience.

MEDEA explores the inexplicable betrayal, pain and anger that erupts between man and woman. Jason betrays Medea by marrying a younger woman, and in her despair and rage Medea kills her two sons by Jason. The play ranges from the passionate detail of the relationship between Jason and Medea to wide ranging attempts to come to terms with anger and sin. This powerful story with its many intimate scenes could have been written today. The two-and-a-half-thousand year-old Greek myth makes for a pertinent and contemporary discovery.

Cast includes: Ishia Bennison, Martin Gower, Sue Holland, Kathleen Michael and Richard Owens.
